Craig Gould & the Nobel Thieves

<https://craiggouldmusic.com>

Craig Gould burst onto the scene with his critically acclaimed debut album, earning top 20 positions across three of the UK's Official Albums Charts. This success led to numerous sell-out shows over five national headline tours and standout performances at some of the UK's biggest festivals.

Recognised as one of the most exciting emerging talents in the Americana, Folk, and Independent music scenes, Gould has built a reputation for genre-defying songwriting and captivating live performances.

With the ambitious 'Live at Beckview Studios' EP releasing in both audio and visual formats in 2025, and the highly anticipated second studio album arriving in 2026, his momentum shows no sign of slowing anytime soon.

Motel Sundown

With a sound reminiscent of soft-rock bands of the 60s & 70s, Motel Sundown draw listeners with their blend of heartfelt lyrics over luscious three part harmonies.

The three friends began writing together in 2018 after discovering mutual influences, releasing their debut album If You Were Listening in 2022 following a trio of singles. Labelled "a band to watch in 2024 and beyond" (Fatea) the Liverpool based band have since supported The Hanging Stars, Ashley Campbell, The Chapin Sisters and more recently, US Grammy nominated artist Courtney Marie Andrews, with two UK tours under their belt.
